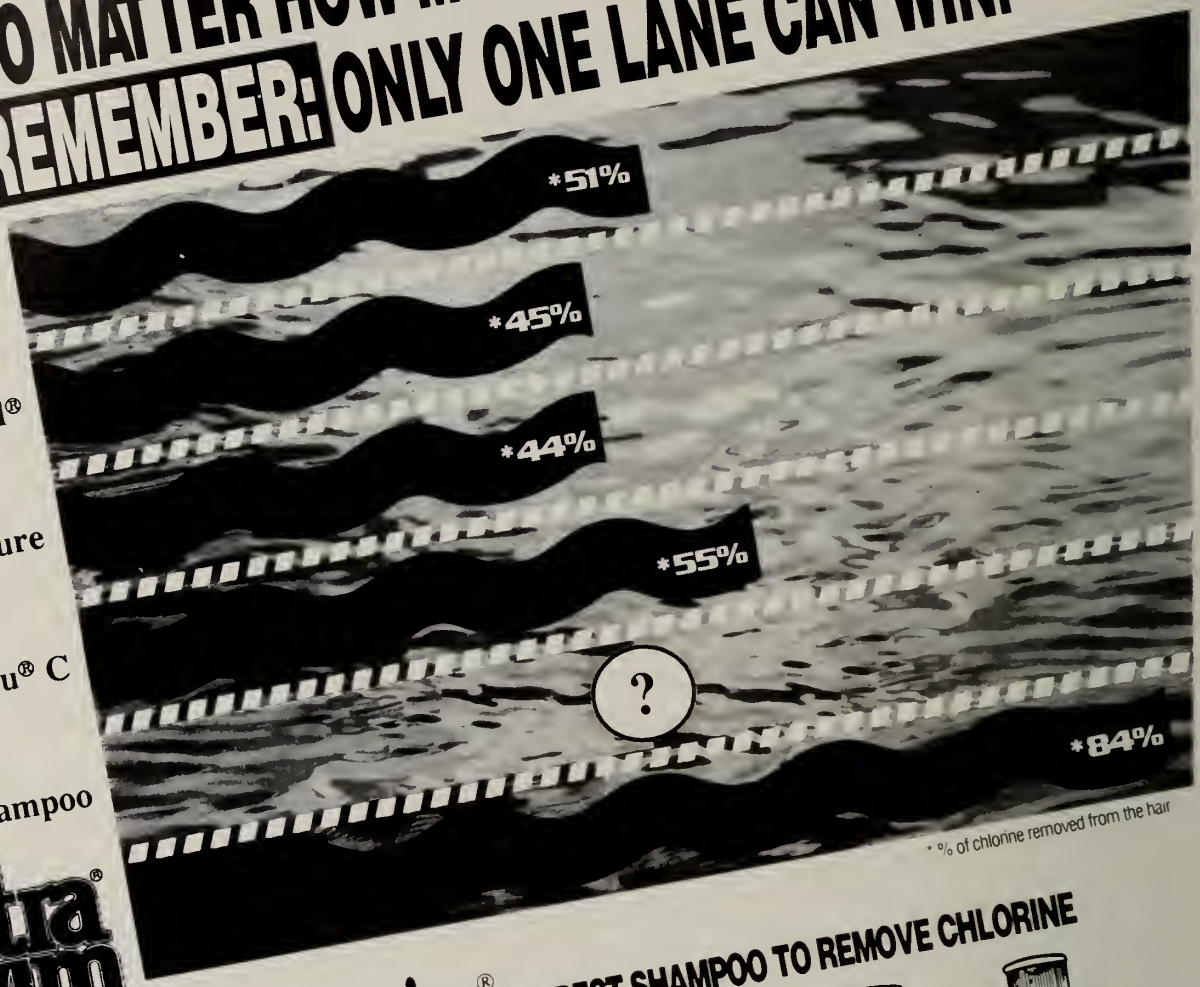
NO MATTER HOW MUCH YOU SWIM, REMEMBER: ONLY ONE LANE CAN WIN.



Ultra Swim®

UltraSwim® THE BEST SHAMPOO TO REMOVE CHLORINE

UltraSwim Shampoo with its special ingredient really Gets the Chlorine Out. In a laboratory study against leading brands of shampoos, including Nexxus® Assure, Malibu® C, Paul Mitchell®, The Finals® and others, UltraSwim removed over 50% more chlorine from the hair. That's a proven fact.

Only UltraSwim works by converting the chlorine in your hair into a water-soluable chloride. Other leading brands of shampoo can't remove chlorine because they can't break down the chlorine's bond.

Not only is UltraSwim superior at removing chlorine, it also cleans as effectively as regular shampoo while leaving your hair soft and manageable. Plus UltraSwim is gentle enough to use everyday.

Try UltraSwim today and see for yourself why UltraSwim is the best shampoo to remove chlorine.

CALGARY WINS COMBINED TEAM TITLE
AMEY AND VonRICHTER TOP PERFOMERS

BRANTFORD—A surprising number showed up for Summer Nationals. Many were still nursing their disappointment from last May's Olympic Trials. A few came to swim.

For the 539 swimmers that competed at Summer Nationals, some were laying the foundations for the future, others were relieved at ending the 1992 season.

Club supremacy was on the line. The University of Calgary emerged with the combined team title on the strength of eight gold and silver medals and three bronzes. UCSC was top women's team.

Edmonton Keyano finished second overall with seven golds, five silvers and bronzes. They also took the men's team title 606 to 591 for UCSC.

Veteran Gary VanderMeulen, 27,UCSC had the top performance of the meet in the 200 fly. He also won the 100 fly, and took part in two winning relays.

The individual high scoring award went to Owen VonRichter, 17, Pepsi with his three golds in the 200-400 and 1500 free. His 15:45.79 in the 1500 free was his life time best.

Other solid men's performances:

• Robert Braknis, 19, Chateauguay, winner of the 50 free 23.73, silvers in the 100 free 52.41, 50-100 back 58.10.

• Jasen Pratt, 19, EKSC, winner of both I.M.'s 2:07.68 and 4:29.30 with a bronze in the 200 back, 2:06.22.

• Robert Fox, 24, EKSC won the 50-100 breast and 4x100 Medley, added silvers in the 200 I.M. 4x50 Medley and 4x100 Free.

• Steve VanderMeulen, 23, UCSC won gold in the 100 free, 4x50 Medley, and 4x100 and 4x200 Free relays, adding silvers in the 50 free, 200 back and a bronze in the 100 back.

• Gloucester-Ottawa Kingfish swept top spots in the men's 200 breast as Andrew Trussler and Michael Lamothe took gold and silver. Craig Devitt added another gold in winning the 800 free.

• Francois Gravel 21, Select, double gold winner in the 50 and 100 back 57.80.

Top women performers:

• Jessica Amey, 15, UCSC tied for gold in the 50 free, and took both 50-100 fly 1:03.32 and helping the 4x100 Medley to victory. She earned the individual high scoring award.

• Shannon Shakespeare, 15, Manitoba Marlins, tied for first in the 50 free and won the 100 free 58.07.

• Jocelyn Jay, 20, Brantford, won two golds in the 400 free 4:21.72 and 200 I.M. 2:19.96 adding a bronze in the 400 I.M.

• Iona Allen, 17, Halifax Trojans most improved swimmer at the meet with gold in the 400 I.M. 4:56.92 her best from last year being 5:10.01. She added a silver in the 100 fly 1:03.55 her 1991 best being 1:06.35.

• Petrina Lessard, 18, Pointe Claire won the 200 free 2:03.91 repeating her win at the Trials in May. She also helped PCSC to golds in the 4x100 and 4x200 Free relays. She's accepted a scholarship the University of Southern California, joining team mate Jennifer Hutchison.

The exodus to American universities will be one of the biggest ever this fall. Indications are that that cream of the graduating high school age swimmers will be going south. The elimination of University Grants three years ago did not help this situation.

BACKWASH

Backwash features short clips, gossip, letters and opinion. Contributions are welcomed. Now for the rumours behind the news.

It's not where you train..it's where you sleep. The biggest new on the altitude training front is that where you sleep and live is more important than where you train. It seems that athletes who live at altitude do better than low level athletes. The main factor is that they are sleeping, not training in the clouds.

To help sea level types who don't want to commute to the top of a local mountain every night, Igor Gamow has developed an altitude bed. The bed is a compression chamber which simulates the living at altitude. The results so far have been dramatic.

Rocky times in B.C. It looks like some clubs in British Columbia are pretty steamed by a new propsal from SWIM BC to give Vernon Kokanee Swim Club a $15,000, two year, interest free loan, to help pay for a new club head coach.

The name that has come up most frequently, as the big fish being trolled for, is Paul Bergen, who put eight swimmers on the 1988 Olympic team when he coached Etobicoke Pepsi. But then having a coach opening and no rumours about Bergen taking the spot is like having a hot summer in Toronto and no crime wave.

What really has the other BC coaches on the warpath is that this decision to help Vernon seems to be arbitrary.

"I've got kids at Olympic Trials," one disgruntled coach said, "but no one is offering us money. And where did this money come from anyway."

Aussie Rules Swimming. No matter how hot the debates get between coaches and SNC, they will have to go a long way to beat what happened recently in Australia. It seems that Ian Finlay, coach of 1500 free wonder boy, Glen Housman, and Don Talbot, the national coach, got in an arguement while on the pool deck.

Apparently the discussion took a new twist when one of the orators grabbed the other, scuffled, and both ended up in the pool.

Arrêt that man. If you've ever been to Montréal you know how "creative" the driving there can be. It seems that one out of province coach was discussing this with his friend from Quebec, and told him that he too could drive like a Montréaler.

To prove his point he was doing a few quick manoevres around an empty parking lot when the backdoor flew open and out rolled one of his swimmer's tape machines, which hit the pavement and shattered. His friend look out the window and said, "Not bad driving, but in Montréal, we close the doors first."

Editor: Swimming must institute year-round drug testing. International sport, not excluding swimming will risk further disrepute if steps are not taken immediately to relieve suspicion of the use of performance enhancing drugs at the highest level of competition.

Elite sports people must be without suspicion. One cannot claim this in the present climate of Olympic sports. The defensive outpourings of IOC President, Juan Antonio Samaranch, and other IOC members are doing little to negate this obvious problem with its emphasis on competition site testing.

FINA, the International body governing swimming, should lead the world by instituting worldwide, unannounced, year-round drug testing. This should start at the earliest possible time.

Water soluble steroid drugs, unlike the earlier fat soluble anabolic steroids, disappear from the body within days. A relatively short period of disuse of these and other drugs can guarantee clean test at the competition site.

Continued assertions of effective testing which are without substance will make sport increasingly unfair.

It should be recognized that some countries including Australia, Canada and Norway are leading the fight against substance abuse in sport. FINA should follow these examples and make their procedures universal.

There are several recent instances in swimming that strongly suggest the use of performance enhancing drugs.

It is impossible to look at women from one nation in particular and not be suspicious. Acne, bulging muscles, facial hair, low voices, poor techniques and hot times—all givewaya signs of steroid use.

For years we coaches, watched "honestly" trained swimmers beaten and were advised not to come up with unproven accusations against the GDR. We were told not to make excuses but to improve our training methods. FINA has decided not to take retroactive action on the drug tainted GDR performances. The President of FINA stated recently "swimming is clean...in our sport doping is not a plague"

FINA cannot procrastinate any longer over this issue. Performance enhancing drugs are almost certainly being used in international swimming. We cannot affort to wait for another 20 years for another exposé and proof of wrongdoing.

In December of 1991, 20 former GDR swimming coaches confirmed that for the past 20 years, the stunning domination of international swimming by the women's team from the GDR was built upon an organized system of anabolic-steroid use. From 1973 to 1988 GDR women won 31 Olympic golds and 44 World Championships. In the same period they established 125 individual world records and 16 relay records.

Senior sports administrators of the now-dissolved Communist state made performance-enhancing drugs a critical part of the training programs for the country's elite athletes.

The fact that few GDR athletes have been caught for drug use at international events is due to the work done at the so-called doping laboratory in Kreischa. In this facility near Dresden, officially recognized by the IOC, urine samples of all GDR athletes were tested before they were allowed to travel abroad. Many top athletes would be tested up to ten times with the objective of saving any of the athletes the embarassement of a positive test,

Editor: I would like to commend you on the June issue of SWIM. It is one of the best ever. The report on the Olympic Trials was very entertaining and informative. Most impressive however was your cover shot of Gary Anderson and Darren Ward after the 200 I.M.

Could you please advise on how I can get a copy as I would like to have poster size blow-up. This photo signifies part of what swimming is all about. SWIM Magazine is a great asset to swimming in this country and I look forward to reading it every month.

Editor: I am writing with regards to the TOP program. I would like to express my support and appreciation for this program. I have seen it spark enthusiam in many fine young swimmers, my own sons amongst them.

However I wonder how you tabulate the swim times sent to you by the coaches. I have known of three swimmers whose times have been deleted or incorrectly reported and as such have not made the much sought after top 10 places.

If the purpose of this program is to encourage and inspire our young athletes, every effort should be made to ensure that the correct statistics are indeed published accurately. The "hit and miss" approach sends a poor message to the next generation of swimmers.

Janice Nathan

The large participation (over 1,000 entries) from 40-50 swim clubs confirms the popularity of ther TOP program. We strive for 100% accuracy. Once all entries are received, a preliminary print out is sent to all participating clubs for corrections. Additional late entries are accepted and hence the final published list will be different from the intial one. Some difficulties are caused by unreadable faxes, illegible handwriting and late entries.

Editor: For the few weeks I have been contemplating if I should express my feelings on the selection process for the Barcelona Olympics.

Inspired by many people to do I have written the following.

To be completely honest, I cannot express my emotions or opinion in not qualifying for the Olympic Team, or express my sympathy for those others in the same predicament in mere writing. I reproduce the poem I wrote the night after failing to qualify for the second relay because of the time standard that was imposed by the COA/SNC.

I address this poem to the people who make the decisions and pray that it will open their hearts, minds, and souls, and hopefully they will realize the sacrifices an athlete makes in order to be the best.

Interpret this work any way you wish.

His Dream Was Good

There once was a boy who's life-long dream was to, some day, reach out and touch the stars.

But one night, as he gazed upon the stars, they exploded and burning fragments of rock came crashing down on to his planet, destroying everything in their path, the trees, his home, his friends, his family, but he did not cry because in his dream and his dream was good.

Ten years later, the boys is now a man, and he finally realized how abandoned, how lonely, so lonely he felt, and thoughts of no longer pursuing his dream rambled in his head, but he did not give up on it because he believed in his dream and his dream was good.

He finally gave in and crumbled to the ground in tears. He closed his eyes and yelled, "Dear God, should everything, would everything, can everything, be just as it was?" and as he opened his eyes his world appeared just as it wasm the trees, his home, his friends, his family.

That night, as he gazed upon his dream once again he thought, "Dear Lord, should I, would I, can I, ever; ever; ever; believe in my dream again?" ... YES I can!

My philosophy is simple: qualifying times for ANY national and/or international competition are discouraging which, in return, will halt the progression of Canadian swimming. First and seconds place finishes should be automatic and top four automatic for relay events.

Media Watch—Taper & Shave: Heaven help you if you're an elite swimmer in a country that determines its Olympic team by decree, or by a committee, or by setting an arbitrary or ridiculously hard standard (like better than the 10th, 15th or 20th fastest time in the world from the previous year). Eddie the Eagles of the world notwithstanding, whatever happened to the notion that countries should, in the Olympic spirit, send their best athletes in each event regardless of whether or not they'd win a medal? And who's to say a particular athlete wouldn't medal if given the chance? Even if the athlete didn't, what about the personal or athletic experience to be gained from representing one's country at the Games? Speaking of which, Dean Kondziolka, who sprints for California in NCAA meets, made the Canadian standard (23.15) for the Olympic 50 free in the prelims at their trials (23.07). Though he won the final (23.31) he didn't make the standard again, so he didn't get to go to Barcelona...

NAME: Nikki Dryden
CLUB: Island Swimming
COACH: Ron Jacks
HEIGHT: 6'1"
WEIGHT: 158 lbs
AGE: 17
STROKE(S): Freestyle/backstroke

RACE WARM UP: I usually do about 1500 metre specializing on either free or back, depending what I am swimming that day.

WHAT IS THE HARDEST PART OF A RACE? The third quarter. The third 50 of a 200 or the third 100 of a 400 is always the hardest. You've got to make sure that you don't slack off in this part of the race, but, instead, build it up.

WHAT IS THE BEST PART OF A RACE? The Last 50! I can always come home really well the last 50. If it's a 200 or an 800 I always have something left. I sort of go into overdrive giving 110%.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE SET DURING WORKOUT? High quality sets like 8x200 from a dive on about 8 minutes. These sets are not only physicallty tugh, but mentally as well and you feel really after you've finished.

WHAT IS THE HARDEST SET YOU'VE EVER DONE? In the middle of a 10,000m work out we had to do 8x800 free on 10:15, progressed 1-8.

WHAT DRILL DO YOU FIND MOST USEFUL? The kick drill; 100 (50 kick, 50 over kick) on 1:50, then 50 easy swim on 50 sec., x 8.

THE BEST MOMENT IN SWIMMING? My best moment in swimming will be when I win a gold medal at the Olympics in world record time, so I'll have to get back to you on this one.

WHAT ADVICE WOULD GIVE YOUNG SWIMMERS?
You are only cheating yourself when you don't put in the work. Pain is temporary, glory is forever.

One of the best known "secrets" in Canadian swimming is Brian Bond. For 11 years, while coaching at Hamilton-Wentworth Aquatic Club, he has consistently been churning out some of the top age group swimmers in Canada.

Brian Bond

To have one or two successful young swimers is usually a case of talented swimmers. True coaching abiltity is evident when the club can keep producing new talent with solid performance year in and year out.

"Brian is not just a good age group coach," Gaye Stratten, head coach at HWAC, said. "Brian is a good coach, period. He could be coaching any sport and still have as much success. He could coach swimming at any level and be successful. He has this abiltity to coach and that is something special."

Bond's philosophy is to get the kids in the water, make them work and keep them coming back. He doesn't coddle them at meets, or hand-hold them. HWAC swimmers are not only fast, they are happy too.

"It's not work that burns them out," Bond said, "it's pressure. You have to let them learn how to swim and how to race.

"Even at a young age (10 and younger) these kids are doing 3,000 metres a workout. They don't miss practices and they like coming to the races. What does make a kid lose interest is when a coach constantly tells them about splits or stroke or technique, when they are at meets. I watch that stuff and we have a plan that we work on, but I don't pressure them about it.

"They get out of the pool after a race and they pretty well know what is good or bad, and then I like to see them talking and having fun with the team."

The best swimmer to come through his ranks in the past four years is Joanne Malar. She is 16 now and a member of the 1992 Olympic team. At 14 she went to the Commonwealth Games.

"You can always spot talent when it comes into the pool," Bond said, "and that was the case with Joanne. She is a very talented girl, who also does the work. She didn't fall apart when she had her big growth spurt this year.

"I believe that she will be a world record holder. There is no doubt in my mind about that.

"Having one good swimmer is great, but it's not the only thing I look at and think of as a high point in my career so far. Our club has always done well at provincials. We've won it four times including this year and we consistently do well in TAG. That shows something about the club and the whole program.

"I have to say I would like to coach swimmers right through to the Olympics. I think that chance will come for me some day."

It's only a matter of time before some savy club president realises what an exceptional coach Bond is and scoops him up.

KONDO'S NIGHTMARE

Bill Barton

I received a call from Doug Houston, CEO of Swimming Canada late June. He advised that "we won." I rejoiced figuring Dean would be going to Barcelona. But he corrected me. "We won. You lost."

Strange how SNC "wins" when a swimmer will not be going to the Olympics. It looks to me like we all lost.

What follows is a sad tale of sprinter Dean Kondziolka's Olympic Trials last May and a subsequent appeal to have him added to the team.

Kondo recently returned from the University of California at Berkeley. I worked on getting him to ride higher in the water—his normal style. When he warmed-up on Sunday, prior to his prelims in the 50, he was sprinting as fast as he ever has. It was one his best ever warm-ups. He's never broken 10 secs. for a sprint 25 before, and he did that twice. When he eventually got to swim the prelims his 23.07 was under the required Olympic selection standard. Prospects looked good for an even faster final swim.

Having the fastest entry time, he swims at the end of the prelims and is trained to watch the starts of the earlier heats. He noticed the strange goings on in the earlier heats. He knew things were a little unsteady. He got off to one of his best ever starts.

We knew that there would be protests on the poor starting through the prelims. I warned him that for the finals there might even be a new starter and different swimmers.

As they walked by I realized there were 11 swimmers in the finals. In my mind I immediately started the protest process. My argument would be if someone in the extra final made the Olympic selection time that would be unfair as it would not be the result of head-to-head swimming.

Nobody was told what was going on. I asked one of the officials why 11 swimmers? Nobody knew. It seemed like they were still trying to decide how all this was going to take place. Considerable delay resulted, affecting this event and all subsequent ones. I should have protested right away when they walked by.

I was waiting at the finishing end as Kondo was about to start. Then everything came to a halt. I went to protest the delay with the referee. I told him that we needed to know what was going on. How do you expect swimmers to perform? He told me the swimmers were all informed of the delay and that two heats of finals would swim. But the swimmers told me they did not know what was happening. The swimmers were left on their own. The officials walked off the deck for their deliberations without any considerations for the athletes.

Eventually, after much delay, the race did go off. But not before more false starts. In the consols, two guys were not down when the starter fired the gun. This caused some of the more senior officials to attempt to replace the starter. Gerry Thomas walked over to the starters podium and started fiddling with the pistol. The starter, walked off the pool deck, followed by the head timer. The swimmer's still couldn't figure what was going on.

The officials returned, told the swimmers to get on the blocks. But the wrong group of swimmers got ready. They wanted the extra heat of three. So the finalists had to get down. Kondo than thought he was no longer in the finals. When they got the three swimmers in the water, nobody knew what that race meant. Eventually he returns to the blocks, but now he's lost his focus. He's wondering about all the different things that went on. He doesn't even get a chance to grab the starting block when the gun went off. I have this on video. This cost him a considerable loss of momentum and a poor position in the water, swimming though the water rather than over it.

As I was walking down to the starting end to file my protest, I passed Trevor Tiffany. I told him what I was doing. He replied that "You wouldn't be doing your job if you didn't." I advised the referee that no decision on the outcome should be finalized.

I went to Trevor and asked for his help in formulating the wording. I also asked Sam Montgomery and Brian Cartlidge for their input. I handed it over to the referee. A committee was formed to deal with it. During this time the awards were handed out. When I asked the referee why, he told me that Trevor Tiffany had told him to do so.

I was called in to make my presentation to a Jury of Appeal composed of: Lise Goulet the meet director, Stu Ponting, Chris Margetts and John Grootveld. There were others who I did not recognize. I was asked what I expected to happen. I told them either a re-swim or that he'd be added to the team, based on his heat time. Trevor Tiffany didn't agree. And the time for a re-swim had passed. The Trials were over.

The final decision was passed to another committee. When I asked Trevor Tiffany who was on this committee, he said he couldn't tell me.

They couldn't run a re-swim that night as one of the finalists had already left for home. Steve VanderMeulen rushed to the airport to catch his flight home to Calgary.

In the published results of the time trial from Tuesday, Steve VanderMeulen finished second. He wasn't even there. I find it all quite bizarre.

VanderMeulen's time is from Sunday, yet he's listed on the results of the Tuesday trials. Trevor Tiffany claims that actually Creelman was second. There are 11 listed on the Tuesday trials, but only eight actually took part. It looks like the finals from Sunday and the Tuesday trials were blended.

I was advised at 2 am Monday that there would be time trial at Claude Robillard on Tuesday afternoon. Trevor Tiffany also told me that no further appeals would be accepted. I said that I couldn't agree to such a thing. We were told we could get in the pool on Monday afternoon at 4 pm. When we got there, the building was locked up. Both Creelman and Kondziolka were upset. Is it any wonder we don't have any sprinters. The few who would like to become one are treated like dirt.

When we got there on Tuesday, the pool was set up short course. Eventually the bulkheads are moved to 50m and 60 kids show up for their workout. Tarek Raafat, a Sunday finalist walked in, having read in the newspaper about the time trial. He got off his train to Ottawa and came to the pool. He should have been called, but he wasn't.

In addition to kids in the pool, there were 20 divers training at the other end. We were told to use the two outside lanes to warm-up. Hardly appropriate as he would be swimming in the middle of the pool. In the Appeal process, Trevor Tiffany indicated that during the time trials the divers stopped. But that is not so, and I have video to prove it. While the starter was about to start the race a coach was calling out the dive to be done by someone at the other end.

I subsequently sought legal counsel and lawyer Marco Veilleux, a former international breaststroker took up my case. Our petition went to a group outside of SNC.

The Appeals Committee was composed of William J.Shaw on behalf of the Aquatic Federation of Canada; Thomas Kinsman, from the Coaching Association of Canada and Robert Price, from Sport Canada.

Trevor Tiffany told the Appeals Committee that the final results were from the time trial at Claude Robillard, and that Brad Creelman would be getting a medal for placing second. The Sunday results were no longer valid. The Tuesday results show Creelman's time of 23.70 (he went 23.69 on Sunday) but VanderMeulen's time from Sunday had been added. That would indicate that the Appeals Committee was given incorrect information. He adamantly stated that the Tuesday trials were the final results and that Sunday's swim was a non-event. Facts indicate otherwise.

Trevor destroyed my credibility with the Appeal Committee. I told them the swim at Claude Robillard was inappropriate. All the conditions around same were unsuitable for an Olympic Trials. The results have been doctored in order not to have to ask for VanderMeulen to return his medal.

It's an impossible situation. Your word is opposed by a senior employee of the association.

It's intolerable that he wasn't in my corner arguing my case on behalf of a Canadian swimmer. I was amazed as we got involved in the process of Appeal that I had Trevor Tiffany arguing the case against me. Why should an employee of SNC be trying to keep someone off the Olympic Team?

The time standard that Dean had to make was imposed by COA who insisted on it, as they wouldn't allow the first two from each event to automatically gain selection. However, having to do the time in finals was an add-on by SNC, not a requirement by COA.

When asked if Dean could be placed on the team because he's done the time previously. Trevor indicated that nobody could be on the team without going through the trials process. I pointed out that in 1984 Anne Ottenbrite was added to team when her knee injury prevented her from swimming in the Trials. Subsequently she won in Los Angeles. That certainly was a precedent.

Dean is one of the youngest sprinters in the world who needs the Olympic experience if he's to develop into a contender.

SNC lost control of this event. They did not provide the athlete a fair opportunity. They did not enforce their own rules. The starter lost it in the heats and should have not continued in the finals. The chain of command broke down. It's almost impossible to establish who is in charge of anything within SNC.

I couldn't even establish when the final entry deadline was for Barcelona. If the Appeal Process was unfavourable, further legal action would be pursued. Trevor Tiffany indicated that June 27th would be the absolute deadline. Actually final entries were only due on July 11. Since the Appeal process decision was only received late afternoon on June 22 it didn't leave sufficient time for a court challenge, or so we thought.

EPILOGUE

Two divers were successful in gaining berths to Barcelona as Quebec Superior Court Justice Perry Meyer told the COA to add them to the team. It was the second in as many Summer Games that a Quebec judge has ordered the COA to accept additional athletes. In 1988 the Olympic team was already in Seoul when a fencer was added.

"It is a very unfortunate precedent," said Dick Pound, a member of the International Olympic Committee, a COA executive and its former president.

"The court should not be involved in selecting athletes to Olympic teams where judgement has to be expressed regarding the technical ability of these athletes to meet certain selection criteria. That's simply nothing that the courts have any expertise in."

Pound, a former swimmer forgets his own experience from 1962. He was not selected for the Commonwealth Team from the Canadian Trials. He was added to the team using an appeal process. He won the gold medal in the 100 free at the Games.

We predict an ever increasing use of the legal system to challenge unfair team selections.

ODE TO KONDO

Twelve years ago
A little boy sat calmly and serene
And said, "Mom, I gonna be
The fastest swimmer this world
Has ever seen."

The medals, the Youths,
The Nationals and Worlds
And the years they quickly passed
As little boy grew up and trained
And learned to swim so fast.

And then it came, May 17th
When decided by
The very "powers that be"
To play their old political games
Just before the 50 Free.

As the game played on,
The crowd grew zany.
An hour went by. This is truly crazy!
It just can't be — Oh no, not again—
Another decision that causes such pain.

I sat and wondered, "How can this be?"
I sat and wondered,
"Why's this allowed to be?"
And then I put my emotions away
And decided then to save them
For a more important day.

I guess the officials didn't really care
In causing the delay
When the reason for the problem
Should have been rectified
Much earlier in the day!

And the race was over
Oh God, how you tried!
The hurt and the trauma
But tears long dried.
As young man says calmly and serene
"Mom, My Olympic Dream just died."

It's just too hard to justify
Why you were robbed of your dream
And it really is a crime.
But they'll never rob me of my memories
Because those memories are mine!

Love, Mom
